

Marvin Lynn Smith, Sr.

A man with a purpose and destiny to fulfill, Marvin has a special gift of inspirational motivation, with a heartbeat for today's youth. He is a behavioral specialist and it is his desire to see people reach their maximum potential as he spends his time adding value to other people's life. Marvin is a true transparent leader.

He was raised in Pomona, California and graduated with honors from Pomona High School. After graduation from high school, on a full scholarship to play football, Marvin attended California State University Fullerton where he majored in Psychology and graduated with honors.

Upon graduation, he fulfilled a childhood dream and signed a contract to play professional football for the NFL. From (1980-83) he played for the Los Angeles RAMS and Oakland Raiders. Due to a knee injury his football career came to an end. Marvin was also accepted into a corporate management intern program at the same time while he was playing in the NFL, where he participated in the off-season.

Later he attended Azusa Pacific University earning a Masters of Arts in Organizational Management and Leadership, where he focused on advanced learning concepts through applied neuroscience. He also obtained a Certificate of Marketing from the University of Southern California, and attended Vision Bible College, where he was ordained as a Minister.

Having an entrepreneurial heart, Marvin has founded and developed various organizational entities. He founded Fired-Up! Ministries, a church without walls. He also founded Corporate Kids/CyberKlub (CK2) an economic youth empowerment organization that utilizes technology as a tool while focusing on character leadership addressing the Digital & Social Divide, and expanding upon the success of the organization, he has been recognized by the California Department of Education with a grant to establish a Charter School (Micro-Enterprise Charter Academy School).

Marvin is a visionary partner in a newly launched venture, SportsTech International, a cutting-edge full service sports management agency that concentrates on athlete relations through personal life coaching, Emotional Intelligence referred to as Human Asset Management.TM

For the last 18 years Marvin has been a youth crisis intervention consultant traveling the nation and abroad intervening in family crisis by counseling and escorting youth to behavioral intervention programs.

Marvin and his wife Karla have six children Marvin Jr., Emerald, Shannon, Eddie, Bryen and Skyler and reside in Rancho Cucamonga, California.